Council to act on court design

By HENRY CANTIN

Plans for the construction of a new 34th District Court building will be presented to Romulus City Council tomorrow (Thursday) for its review and approval.

The presentation will be made by representatives of the architectural firm of Ralls-Hamill-Becker Associates, Inc. of Livonia, which was employed by the Romulus City Building Authority to draw up specifications for the proposed building.

The building authority, operators of the present Romulus' municipal complex, is supervising and directing the proposed building of the new court structure.

When the plans are finally approved by both the city council and the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing, the building will be part of the municipal complex, located on the southeast corner of S. Wayne and Goddard roads.

If the city council approved the plans presented tomorrow night, steps will be initiated to get the state agency to approve a bond issue to finance the construction of the new edifice, Leo M. Kalota, secretary of the Romulus Building Authority reported Monday.

Recently the city council approved $7,400 of Romulus Building Authority funds to hire an architectural firm to draw up designs for the new court facility.

The new court building will replace present court quarters that are housed in the former Hale Elementary School, 30240 Eureka Rd.

The 34th District Court's jurisdiction embraces the communities of Belleville and Romulus and the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren.

The need of a new court building is urgent, according to authority officials, who report that existing facilities are "definitely overcrowded and make proper handling of court cases difficult."

The authority also reported that Romulus, headquarters for the 34th District Court, and the surrounding area will grow by approximately 50 per cent during the next 10 years so that existing court facilities could not possibly handle the increase in population will bring.

The Wayne County Road Commission would like to acquire the existing court facilities for expansion of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport, the authority disclosed.

Two of the complex's planned four structures Romulus' new Municipal Building and the new Romulus Public Library have been built.

These two structures, as well as the new court building and a proposed Civic Center-Community Building, will be owned and operated by the building authority.

Bonds to finance construction will be paid off by rental revenues when the bonds are paid off, the buildings will be turned over to the city.

Preliminary studies by Ralls-Hamill-Becker Associates, Inc. indicate that a two courthouse building of approximately 15,000 square feet would appear to be ample to take care of the Romulus area needs. This would run an estimated $840,000 in construction cost, the studies disclosed.

Wheeler seeks Huron post

Supervisor candidate lists background, goal

Ronald Wheeler, 38, one of three Republican candidates seeking election to the post of Huron Township supervisor in the Aug. 8 primary election, has listed his background and major goal if elected.

"I share the concern of all residents of the community for better schools, more responsive and more responsible government, and pledge that when elected I will devote all my efforts to achieve not what a few powerful groups want, but to return the government of the community where it properly belongs—to the citizens," Wheeler said in commenting on his candidacy.

Wheeler and his wife, Lois, are the parents of two children, Scott, 12, and Shari, 9. Both attend Huron School District schools. The Wheelers reside at 29460 Prescott Rd., Romulus.

Wheeler has recently been awarded a fellowship for studies abroad this summer in completion of the requirements for the M.A. degree.

Prior to returning to college, Wheeler worked at Inmont Corp. in Detroit, where he was involved in union activities. He served as a steward committee member and vice president for Local 942 UAW-CIO. He terminated his employment at Inmont Corp. in 1969 after 15 years.

For the past year, Wheeler has taught in the local schools as a substitute for Huron High School, Riverside and Hannan elementary schools.

Born in Kentucky in 1934, he has resided in Michigan since 1952. He served in the Armed forces from 1957-60.

Ron and his family belong to St. James United Church of Christ. He has served as an usher, elder, consistory secretary, choir member, Sunday School teacher and chairman of the Adult Fellowship Club.

His wife has served as area chairman for the Cancer Foundation and other benevolent organizations. She has driven a school bus to support the family while Ron worked on his degree.

Recently she returned to Michigan Bell as an operator to enable her husband to complete the master's requirements.

Tax billings are in mail

Property tax statements for the 1972 tax year are being mailed to Romulus property owners, according to Albert Glinki, city treasurer.

The statements will include the city tax assessment and for 50 per cent of the school property tax.

The balance of the school tax for 1972 and the Wayne County tax levy will be collected in December, Glinki said.

The total city tax assessment is $12.50 per $1,000 of assessed property tax, state equalized. It includes $5.50 for city operations, $3 for water and service and $4 for debt retirement.

The current school property tax, according to Glinki, is $31.18 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized. Fifty per cent of this tax levy will be listed in the tax statements in the mail.

The split in the collection of the school tax was requested by the Romulus Board of Education some weeks ago and approved by the Romulus City Council.

The City of Romulus collects all tax assessments for city, school and county.

Plank opposes cross-district busing backers

Robert D. Plank, Democratic candidate for Wayne County commissioner for the 26th District, has lashed out at proponents of busing.

The 26th District embraces the communities of Romulus, Flat Rock, Rockwood, part of Taylor and Huron Township.

In a statement made public Monday, Plank said:

"It is my opinion that U.S. District Court Judge Stephen J. Roth and elected officials should take a look at what the vast majority of voters across the country are telling them."

"Judge Roth can issue any order he likes, but enforcing them will be a problem. Elected officials must not have heard the message George Wallace sent or they would not be endorsing so many candidates in Michigan who are for busing."

Plank further stated, "I intend also to send them a message by winning against my opponent (John N. Sabo, Jr. of Taylor), who is very still on the busing issue."

"I am opposed to busing and if elected, I will ask the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to work in conjunction with local school boards to enforce strict limits on bus speeds and safety features," said Plank. "I would also ask the county commissioners to no longer collect school taxes if it became necessary."

"If enough people who are opposed to busing stand together, busing can be made so costly and so difficult that it will never be implemented. The county should impose severe weight restriction on some county roads if that also has to happen," he added.

"Elected or not, I will always oppose cross district busing because I believe we will eventually send even the courts a message," Plank concluded.

Coed bike hike draws 30 riders

Forecasts of rain and early morning clouds failed to discourage Taylor and Romulus bikers who met at Taylor City Hall Saturday morning for the first "Taylor-Romulus Coed Bike Hike," sponsored by the Western Wayne County YWCA.

About 30 bikers left Taylor at 9:30 a.m. and covered the eight miles to the Romulus Help Center in less than an hour.

After being treated to pop and chips and resting briefly, the combined group finished the trek to Lower Huron Metropolitan Park, where they swam, played shuffle board and toured the park's bike trails.

Following a picnic lunch, everyone brought his own — the group pedaled back through Romulus for another stop at the help center, 35085 Goddard Rd. and on to Taylor City Hall.

"Let's do it again next week," suggested Mark McPhee of Romulus.

"Well, maybe next month," offered the chaperones.

Among those who took part in the first of a series of social and recreational activities sponsored by the "Y" were: Donna Lucke, Jody Mead, Leonard Smiegel, Jeff Beaumont, Ed Bottomlee and Mark McPhee, all of Romulus.

From Taylor were Ronnie Seiglak, Greg Watson, Chris Lippstreu, Brian Shrop-shear, Cindy Gonzalez, Charles and Mary Heinzerling and their son, Derek (who rode in a rumble seat), Barbara Mulka, Lee Spear and Taylor fireman Allen Arndt, his wife, Ann, and their sons.

Cub Pack holds olympics

Cub Scout Pack 1739, sponsored by the Romulus VFW Post, held its annual picnic at the Lower Huron Metropolitan Park.

A Cub Scout Olympics meet was held with relay races, a tug-of-war, peanut scramble and a rope toss. In addition, awards were presented to pack members by Cubmaster Dennis Kidder.

Tony Clark won a canteen for winning first place with 141 points. Greg Atherton came in second with 128 points. He won a wallet. Frank Kuslusi, who came in third with 121 points, won a flashlight. Billy Hoogerhyde, who placed fourth, won a pencil and case. Other award winners included Doug Cox, fifth place, a neck slide; Lee Pingilley, sixth place, a neck slide; John Heilly, seventh place, a handkerchief; and Ray Ziegler, eighth place, a comb.

Claudette Pingilley and Kathy McCallum selected the awards.

Cub Scout Pack meets at the Harrison Elementary School in Romulus.

Romulus teachers approved

Employment contracts for three members of the teaching staff have been approved by the Romulus Board of Education.

The three new 1972-73 contracts were approved for Linda Lee Kreff, Spanish teacher; Karen Anne Biggar, special education teacher, and Barbara Ann Abar, art teacher at the elementary level.

The board also approved a one-year extension of employment for Mrs. Martha Morgan of 34250 Richard St., Romulus. She teaches the kindergarten class at the Hayti Elementary School.

Veterans benefits bill goes to voters

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK, State Representative, 38th District

The Michigan House has given fast approval to a $266 million dollar bond issue to provide for a service bonus or educational benefits.

The governor has indicated he will give this measure fast approval and the question will be placed on the November 7th election ballot for the voters of this state to approve the Vietnam veterans' proposals.

I spent three days in conference working out the final proposal to insure equity and benefits to all of Michigan citizens who served in the military forces.

The basic benefits of the program, if approved by the voters, would apply to veterans of service between Jan. 1, 1961 and Jan. 1, 1974. Those Michigan veterans serving between these dates and eligible to wear a Vietnam veterans service medal or armed forces expeditionary medal will receive the greatest benefits.

The proposal to be placed on the ballot would read: "Shall the State of Michigan borrow the sum of $266,000,000 and issue general obligation bonds of the state for the payment of principal and interest thereon for providing veterans of the Vietnam and other conflicts with tuition payments to educational institutions or a service bonus, the method of repayment of said bonds to be from the general fund of the state, — Yes or — No."

The proposal, if approved by the voters, will provide that a Michigan veteran serving a minimum of 191 days between the dates mentioned and receiving one of the medals needs only to make application and receive a $500 bonus. Time spent in service academies or reserve programs would not.

The proposal further provides that a Michigan veteran who has no service medal, not through his own fault, because this person served in a capacity as prescribed by the federal government, can make application and receive $15 per month, not to exceed $360.

This proposal was part of the negotiation and conference with the governor's office to assure its citizen veterans that all will be able to receive some benefits under the service bonus.

The proposal further provides upon approval by the voters that a Michigan veteran shall be entitled to educational benefits of not more than $500 per year for not more than four years. These benefits would total $2,000 if the Michigan veteran stays in school for four years.

This provision provides all types of education: Vocational, mechanical, trades, community colleges, colleges and universities.

The proposal further provides, if approved by the voters, a child of a veteran officially designated as "missing in action," or "prisoner of war" shall be entitled to educational benefits for not more than four years in a college or university of their choice.

Favorable action by the members of the House in passing this measure was great joy after spending many hours in working out a good proposal that the voters of this state can approve. The bill previously passed the senate by a 36-1 vote.

I said that I would push for early House approval of the measure. This has been accomplished.

The bill further provides that, if the veteran is deceased, the maximum money would be paid to his beneficiary.

The bill passed the House by a 95-1 vote. The Senate, after receiving a House amended bill (including 11 of my amendments which were adopted) immediately approved the measure by a vote of 30-0.

The people of Michigan have in the past recognized with special benefits servicemen of other wars. The time is long overdue when we should pay the same type of recognition to those who served from the State of Michigan in the armed forces in the United States.

The House completed two other veteran proposals during the last rush of the final day before adjournment and passed a bingo bill allowing fraternal and veteran organizations and others to conduct the game of bingo to earn benefits for their organizations.

The House also sent to the Senate the veterans homestead tax exemption bill and had removed two crippling amendments that would eliminate many veterans who have received wartime injuries and are living on the compensation provided to them by the federal government in defense of the freedom of the United States.

Further work needs to be completed when the legislators return this fall to insure that the bingo bill be signed into law and that the veterans homestead tax exemption bill be signed into law and returning to those veterans or his widow benefits that have been lost since the adoption of the 1963 Constitution.

Mother makes plea for return of bike

To the editor:

We would like to make an appeal for the return of Peter's bicycle, small in size and turquoise in color. The crossbar has been removed so that it looks like a girl's bike. The training wheels have also been removed.

Peter had just learned to ride the bicycle nicely without training wheels when he missed it June 11, his sixth birthday. We looked everywhere we could think of and also called the police. He had it in the park the evening of June 10. So he had it then.

Parents, will you check very carefully with your children to see if one of them rode the bicycle home perhaps not knowing to whom it belonged? It is possible that among your children's belongings in a small sized turquoise bicycle with white handle grips and turquoise and white seat.

If you are wondering to whom it belongs, it belongs to Peter of 65 S. Liberty St., Belleville, across the street from Victory Park in Belleville. You can return the bicycle to this address or to the Belleville police.

We will appreciate anything you can do that Peter may enjoy his bike again.

REA clarifies stand on teacher assault

To the editor:

Since last week's publication of the Romulus Education Association (REA), some false impressions have been noted.

Individuals have deduced, as a result of our review of an alleged assault, that the REA is resentful of parent-teacher cooperation in the schools. We would like to clarify our position.

The REA recognizes that positive parent-teacher relationships are essential in education. Nothing upsets an educational institution more than personal hostilities, strife or unrest openly expressed and uncontrolled. Conversely, few activities encourage education more than for students to see parents and teachers working together for their common good.

The REA questions the lack of action made by administrative members who are responsible for maintaining a stable atmosphere in their schools. That this particular incident is being used to illustrate our philosophy does not mean that this case will be made any more significant than any other alleged assault.

However, it does represent a failing in our schools. Where was the administrative member in charge when the incident occurred?

Should an administrator intercede when it becomes evident that a clash of this nature will occur?

Can non-professional personnel effectively direct the sometimes abnormal functions of a building when the administrator is absent?

Is there to be anyone responsible for conferring with an irate individual be it parent, teacher or student — when the actions of that individual will disrupt the building?

The REA cities administrative members of the school system for not holding to the responsibilities of their positions. The alleged assault should not have occurred.

When abnormal circumstances arise, it is imperative that system policies be known by all concerned. Administrators must accept the responsibility of acting as liaison in the school system.

'WHAT DOES IT ALL MEAN?'

Alcohol: use & abuse

Question: How can we prevent alcohol problems?

Answer: Problem drinking and alcoholism can never be controlled solely by treating the casualties. The goal must be prevention and this requires early identification of alcohol problems in an individual, and the development of responsible attitudes and behavior in the use of alcoholic beverages. It also requires full respect and acceptance of an individual's choice not to drink; not drinking is as responsible and acceptable a decision as sensible drinking.

Hosts and hostesses have a responsibility to their friends to prevent irresponsible drinking at dinner parties or social gatherings. Food should always be served before and with drinks, and soft drinks made available as an alternative to alcoholic beverages. No guest who elects not to drink alcoholic beverages should be cajoled or shamed into doing so. This includes the abstainer, the recovered alcoholic, or the social drinker who recognizes he has had enough.

Attitudes that accompany responsible drinking behavior in other cultures have been identified. In societies where drinking is practiced only as an adjunct to other activity, where guidelines for drinking are strictly adhered to, and where drunkenness is severely censured, problem drinking is rare. On the other hand, where drinking is accepted as a way of avoiding reality, or where drunkenness is condoned or tolerated, there is a high incidence of problem drinking.

Studies comparing social drinkers with persons who have drinking problems show that for the most part the latter were introduced to alcohol later in life, began with hard liquors, had their first drinking experience outside the home, and got

As service to our readers, The Enterprise-Roman is printing this release from the Western Wayne County Council on Alcoholism. Send all questions on the use, non-use and abuse of alcohol to the council care of P.O. Box 924, Wayne, Mich. 48184. Literature about alcohol is available upon request.

Conversely, responsible drinkers usually tasted alcoholic beverages with their family when they were young, drank occasionally at home, started with wine or beer, and did not get drunk.

Programs of education about alcohol, its properties and effects, its potential for harm, and its responsible and irresponsible uses, are now underway by the Federal Government and many local agencies. The aim is prevention of alcohol abuse, alcohol problems, and alcoholism, through developing public awareness of the facts about alcohol.

Question: How does alcohol work in the body?

Answer: When you drink an alcoholic beverage, 20 percent of the alcohol in it is absorbed directly and immediately into the bloodstream through the stomach walls. Unlike other "food", it does not have to be digested. The blood carries it directly to the brain where the alcohol acts on the brain's central control areas, slowing down or depressing brain activity. The other 80 percent of alcohol is processed only slightly slower through the gastrointestinal tract and into the bloodstream. Alcohol is in such a rush to get into the bloodstream that moments after it is consumed it can be found in all tissues, organs, and secretions of the body.

A low level of alcohol in the blood, such as would result from taking one drink an hour, has a mild tranquilizing effect, since alcohol is a central nervous system depressant. It may at first seem to stimulate you, however. Through evolutionary development, the brain consists of many layers, and alcohol's first effects will be exerted upon the upper, or "newer", parts of the brain where learned behavior patterns such as self-control are stored. After a drink or two, this learned behavior may temporarily disappear, making you lose your inhibitions, talk more freely, or feel like the "life of the party." Or you may feel aggressive, or depressed.

Higher blood alcohol levels depress brain activity further to a point that memory, as well as muscular coordination and balance, may be temporarily impaired. Still larger alcohol intake within a relatively short period of time depresses deeper parts of the brain, producing a state of loss of control in which judgment is severely affected, and sensory perceptions are dulled.

If steady heavy drinking continues, the alcohol will anesthetize the deepest levels of the brain, and may result in

Michigan busing issue could be Nixon key

Michigan is exemplary of everything that is going wrong in the nation — racial discontent, unemployment, drugs and pollution.

For that reason, it could be the king-pin in President Nixon's reelection campaign.

Nixon recently sent John Ehrlichman, his chief domestic advisor to Gov. Milliken's aid in battling U.S. Judge Stephen J. Roth's order for cross-district busing in Detroit.

It was a thinly disguised attempt to identify the president with anti-busing sentiments, an issue that will probably be the major issue in the presidential campaign.

Nixon undoubtedly is sincere in his declaration to "try to set federal quality education standards wherever possible instead of busing," but he is also politically wise enough to recognize its vote-getting potential.

Ehrlichman, an articulate, forceful speaker well steeped in Nixonian philosophy, used the Michigan busing hassle to climb on a proxy presidential soapbox, courting both Republican and Democratic suburban votes.

Ehrlichman said Nixon will send federal attorneys to Michigan to fight the Roth ruling in which, he said, the federal government has a pecuniary role since as a funding agent, it is vitally concerned with the ultimate ruling.

He further used the Michigan trip to take a swipe at the Democratically dominated Congress for its failure to act in establishing educational standards making busing unnecessary.

If there was any doubt that the Milliken-Ehrlichman meeting had political overtones, it was completely dispelled with Ehrlichman's closing statement to the press.

"What do you think of Sen. Hart's statement that to solve the Roth case, the 14th amendment would have to be repealed?" a newsman asked the Nixon advisor.

"Sen. Hart obviously doesn't know anything about it," he responded.

Ehrlichman then used the question to piggyback Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin on Nixon's crusading coattails.

"Sen. Griffin has been untiring in his efforts to bring about fair, quality education without needless busing," he added.

If Nixon makes a good showing here, Michigan could be the domino state in his whole campaign strategy.

Other states have bits and pieces of the Michigan problem mosaic, and viewing how Nixon handles the Great Lakes state, especially in the busing controversy, could exert a strong influence on sympathetic voters in other states.

Michigan is the model Nixon is the candidate and the presidency is the bandwagon to reelection.

Now let's have a similar crusade to provide jobs for them.

President Nixon has established the Jobs for Veterans program and directed the federal government to put its resources to work to stimulate the hiring of veterans.

The state employment service and the Veterans Administration offices will supply veterans to fill job openings. Moreover, the current "G.I. Bill" provides allowances for training.

Employers, here is an opportunity to help yourselves, and to make the American Promise a reality to those who have fulfilled one of citizenship's most demanding obligation.

Bring boys home...to what?

More than a half-million servicemen will be returned to civilian life during 1972.

These veterans have met the rigorous challenges of military service, often a great risk and personal sacrifice.

Many have gained civilian-related skills. Some are physically disabled, but offer a special determination to succeed. And yet, far too many veterans are currently without a job. Prospects for those soon to be released are generally regarded as gloomy.

Throughout America we have heard the cry to bring our boys back home. But to what?

Family planning van dates set in Romulus

Romulus women who need and want family-planning services and information won't have to travel far afield.

Beginning next Tuesday, a clinic on wheels will be stationed at the Old City Hall, Goddard Road and Sterling Street, every Tuesday and Thursday from 1 to 5 p.m.

The fully equipped van will house the new Family-planning service being sponsored by Communities United for Action (CUFA), the agency recently designated by the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity to plan and administer programs assisting low-income families in eight Wayne County target communities, including Romulus. The others are Taylor, Inkster, Sumpter Township, Ecorse, River Rouge, Highland Park and Hamtramck.

Although CUFA is a new agency — still primarily engaged in studying needs and drafting programs — the family-planning van is not new. It was utilized during the previous OEO program, administered by Wayne County but terminated by the federal government at the end of 1970.

The mobile clinic was placed in storage until recent weeks, when CUFA received a $75,000 OEO grant to reactivate the service.

An additional $18,750 is being contributed by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and the CUFA communities.

Mrs. Berenice Ross, a registered nurse with an extensive background in supervisory nursing and teaching, has charge of the CUFA family-planning unit. She will be working with Dr. J.B. Greene, of Detroit, the clinic's medical director, and two other physicians. The van also will be sent to Ecorse and Hamtramck.

Women who visit the family-planning clinic next week will be interviewed, shown films on birth control and family-spacing techniques and devices, and then will have an opportunity to ask questions.

Following the discussion period, a complete physical examination will be conducted by a physician, who will discuss with the individual the most appropriate birth-control method or device for her.

If pills or inter-uterine devices are desired or recommended, the medication will be dispensed or the device will be inserted at the clinic, without charge.

Women will be encouraged to return to the clinic periodically for checkups, Mrs. Ross said.

Patients will be accepted at the family-planning clinic mobile on the basis of OEO income guidelines, with eligibility determined during the first visit.

Mrs. Ross recommends that appointments be made by telephoning 292-2110, Extension 22, although it is not necessary to have an appointment.

Lubinski blasts Ford for school prayer vote

"God struck out in the 92nd Congress," charged Frank E. Lubinski, Democratic candidate for congress in the 15th District, as he opened his campaign headquarters in the Sheraton Metro Inn in Romulus.

"On Dec. 8, 1971, the House of Representatives failed by 27 votes to pass a much wanted and much needed School Prayer Amendment," said Lubinski.

"Among those voting against the prayer amendment was Congressman Bill Ford. This is just another instance of his negative voting record," said Lubinski.

"Once in Congress, I will take immediate action to reactivate the prayer amendment, which would permit voluntary prayer in our nation's schools," Lubinski said.

"The distinguished evangelist Billy Graham, speaking of the prayer amendment said, 'I believe that the overwhelming majority of the American people want prayer in the schools. It is interesting ... that when we took prayer out of the schools, sex permissiveness, rebellion, drugs and even crime came in,'" added Lubinski.

"Indeed, it is interesting that Ford had the audacity to go against the majority of the God-fearing people of this district and voted to keep God out of the schools," commented Lubinski.

The Sheraton Inn is located on Merriman Road at I-94.

Armed robbery suspect jailed

Wayne County sheriff's detectives said last week they have begun extradition proceedings against a man believed responsible for a series of Detroit area holdups, including one in Belleville.

Detective Arthur Torikian identified the suspect as James L. Collins, 28, no known address.

Torikian said Collins, now in custody of police in Parkersburg, W. Va. would probably be returned to Michigan to face armed robbery charges here later this week.

Collins is suspected of robbing a Shell Oil Co. gas station at 11450 Belleville Rd., of $48 on Jan. 4, Torikian said.

Torikian said a lone bandit matching Collins' description robbed the gas station while armed with a .22 caliber pistol early that morning.

The detective said Collins may also be involved in three armed robberies in Detroit earlier this year.

Armed robbery can carry a penalty of life imprisonment.

Electronic Method: Mix all ingredients in a 1½ quart glass casserole and heat in electronic oven for 3 minutes, stirring every minute, until piping hot. Serve on frankfurters in buns which have been heated in the electronic oven. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Baked Beans Bengal

1 pound navy beans
1½ quarts warm water
¼ to ½ pound piece bacon

2 tablespoons Red or Green Bell peppers
2 tablespoons instant minced onions
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon Spice Islands curry powder
2 teaspoons Beau Monde seasoning
½ teaspoon cracked black pepper
1 large fresh tomato

Stir in garlic powder, curry, Beau Monde and pepper. Add to beans and continue cooking for another hour or till beans are tender. Add salt to taste. Just before serving, stir in lemon juice. This is a vegetable dish that can be served as an entree; it has some of the same seasonings as curry. Omit the bacon, if desired, or use the end of a roast or ham hock instead. Makes 8 servings.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER
BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR
How old is old? A 5 year old may think grandma is old at 45. Grandma, perhaps herself showing signs of gray, rarely refers to her gay mother at 65 as old, or even getting old. When obituaries show names of friends aged 65 to 70, often you hear, "Gee, he wasn't so old." At age 80, one often hears, "getting up there in years."
Clothes are made to make one look young (excepting certain styles at times). Cosmetics create a youthful glow from head to toe. Wrinkle erasers (do they really work?), can be bought. These are physical fallacies about age to support another fallacy, "you are as old as you feel." So again, - how old is old?
General Douglas MacArthur, at age 75, answered it this way: "Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old only by deserting their ideals. Years may wrinkle the skin but to give up interest wrinkles the soul." Come to think of it, his definition is good advice. (Incidentally, we like advice from time to time. Whether you agree or disagree with what you read here, write to us any time you wish.)

Newly wed Salvos take month-long honeymoon

A month-long honeymoon along the Eastern seaboard with Williamsburg, Virginia and Cape Hatteras, North Carolina as special stops followed the June 10 wedding of Suzanne Guisasa and Leonard P. Salvo.

The young couple, now residing in Milan, spoke their vows at the First United Presbyterian Church in Ypsilanti with some 160 guests in attendance.

Baskets of white and pink carnations adorned the altar as the Rev. Lawrence Woodruff presided at the double ring rite at 11:30 in the morning.

Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julio M. Guisasa of 48420 Hull Road, Belleville, and her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Salvo of 1706 Vermont, Marysville.

SPECIAL MUSIC prior to the ceremony included a trumpet solo, "Second Movement of the Humble Concerto", played by Mr. Edgars of the Eastern Michigan University faculty and a solo, "I Gave My Love an Apple" by the bride's cousin, Mrs. Frank Hudson.

In lieu of the traditional wedding march, the bridal party entered to a trumpet quintet playing an English folk tune arranged by the bridegroom, who is band director at Bedford

Junior High School in Temperance.

For her wedding day, the bride donned a gown designed and made by her aunt, Mrs. Raul Valverde of Ypsilanti. Fashioned of Lutzon satin with a sheer nylon overlay, the dress featured an empire bodice with a high lace neckline on the illusion yoke. Lace was also used to band the short, puffed sleeves and again above the pleated border at the hem.

A fingertip veil of nylon tulle was held by a lace cap, also designed and made by Mrs. Valverde. Completing her bridal finery was a colonial bouquet of white roses and baby's breath tied with satin streamers.

ATTENDING THE BRIDE were Kriss Anne Miller of Ypsilanti as maid of honor; Lisa Shupe and Patricia Ritchie, cousins of the bride from Ypsilanti; Phyllis Stuck of Swannanoa, North Carolina; and the bridegroom's sister, Linda Salvo of Marysville.

Miss Miller appeared in a pink organza pinafore over a white organza frock printed with pink flowers. She wore baby's breath in her hair and held an old-fashioned bouquet of pink carnations.

The quartet of bridesmaids wore identical ensembles except that the pinafores were white over pink printed gowns and their flowers were arranged to match.

Dressed in a miniature version of the honor attendant's outfit was four-year old Traci Lynn Horrocks, cousin of the bride and daughter of the Eugene Horrocks.

Raymond Kudzia of St. Clair Shores was asked to be best man. Others on the esquire side were Anthony Guisasa, brother of the bride; Norman Logan of Wayne and Jerry Manchester of Richmond.

WHITE CARNATION corsages were presented to Mrs. Guisasa and Mrs. Salvo who appeared in aqua and pale blue, respectively. They received friends and relatives at the Washtenaw Country Club where the reception was held after the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Salvo, a 1969 graduate of Belleville High School, is in her senior year at Eastern Michigan University where she is an early elementary education major. Her husband, a member of Kappa Kappa Psi national honorary band fraternity, was graduated in 1970 from EMU.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Huron Motor Inn, Ypsilanti. Out of town guests included the bride's grandparents, Col. and Mrs. Leon Deschamps of North Carolina; the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Salvo from Jamestown, New York; and aunts and uncles of the bridegroom from Canada.

Daughter's engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. James McGhen of 10386 Sterling, Romulus, announce the engagement of their daughter, Paula, to Conley Smith, son of the Othel Smiths of 10405 Miriam Street, Romulus.

Both young people are graduates of Romulus High School. Miss McGhen is employed at Kelsey-Hayes Plant in Romulus and her fiancé at the Ford Motor Company's Rawsonville plant. No wedding date has been set.

Linda Elwart marries

St. Aloysius Church is site of wedding

St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus was reserved June 18 for the four o'clock wedding of Linda Mae Elwart and Roger Lee Ingram. Appearing before the Rev. Joseph Kernosek, the couple exchanged double ring vows and wedding bands.

The white roses, mums and gladiolas which graced the altar were arranged by Mrs. Sylvia Ozga. Music on the organ was played by the bride's cousin, Donna Spewock of Dundee.

Parents of the young couple are Dr. and Mrs. Ray Elwart of 37511 Huron River Drive, Romulus, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Ingram of Rainsville, Alabama.

FOLLOWING THE ceremony the newlyweds were feted at a reception at Local 735, Belleville, with over 475 guests attending. The couple later departed Metro Airport for a week and a half honeymoon in Orlando and Daytona Beach, Florida.

They are now making their home at 1000 Brady Street, Davenport, Iowa where both attend Palmer College of Chiropractic.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, Linda wore a gown of imported English Nottingham lace designed with a sheer yoke, wedding ring collar and long full sleeves gathered at the wrist. Her softly-gathered, bell-shaped skirt terminated in a detachable chapel-length train.

A lace Juliet cap secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried cascading white orchids, baby's breath and stephanotis.

Preceding the bride up the aisle were her four attendants: Mrs. Patsianne Harold of Romulus as maid of honor; Cynthia Elwart, her sister, who was junior bridesmaid; Rose Latocki, a cousin from Milan; and Debbie Ingram, the bridegroom's sister from Rainsville, Alabama.

Mrs. Harold wore an empire gown of yellow floral print on a green background while the others were in green flowered gowns styled along similar lines. Designed in the empire mode, the dresses featured long, full sleeves gathered at the wrist, high necklines and full skirts. Their matching Juliet hats were edged with fingertip veils and they carried baskets filled with yellow roses and baby's breath.

GERALD MANCE came from Chattanooga Valley, Georgia to serve as best man. Ushers were Michael Ingram, the bridegroom's brother from Rainsville, Alabama; and Dan Elwart, the bride's brother from Romulus.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elwart chose a long gown of green chiffon over crepe styled with a beaded collar and long sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore a formal blue gown with an empire waistline. Both were presented with orchid corsages.

For traveling southward, the new Mrs. Ingram changed to a red, white and blue fitted frock, white sandals and blue handbag.

A 1971 Romulus High School graduate, Linda attended the school of cosmetology there before entering Palmer College. Her husband earned his diploma at Plainview High School in Rainsville and spent a year at Northeast State College there before transferring to Palmer College.

MRS. DONALD W. GILLEN

Nancy Kay Seaman wed in New York

Nancy Kay Seaman of Stuyvesant Falls, New York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Seaman of Belleville, became the bride of Donald William Gillen of Blauvelt, New York July 1. The Dutch Reformed Church in Kinderhook, New York, was the setting for the summer nuptials conducted by the Rev. Richard E. Dietrich.

Mrs. Fay Knowles was at the organ to accompany Earl Johnson, the soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, Nancy appeared in a toe-touching creation of white taffeta with an overlay of sheer bridal fabric. The lifted bodice was fashioned of rosepointe lace with a square neckline and long, sheer sleeves cuffed in matching lace.

Her chapel-length mantilla veil, traced in delicate lace, was caught to a little lace cap. A bouquet of white pomp mums completed her bridal ensemble.

THE BRIDE'S college roommate, Suzanne Miller of Bradfordwoods, Pennsylvania, served as honor attendant in blue-green taffeta under pale blue dotted swiss. Her bow headpiece was in matching fabric and her bouquet was comprised of daisies.

Wearing identical ensembles were the bride's two sisters, Mrs. Sybil Elmer of Altus, Oklahoma and Sandie Seaman of Minneapolis, Minnesota, the two bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent P. Gillen of Blauvelt, New York, asked Ralph Kussmaul of Blauvelt to be his best man. Groomsmen were James Talbott of Nyack, New York, and David Gillen of Blauvelt, brother-in-law and brother, respectively, of the bridegroom.

After honeymooning in the South-East, the newlyweds took up residence in Hudson, New York.

The new Mrs. Gillen graduated from Nyack College in Nyack New York and is now teaching in Valatie, New York. Her husband, a teacher in Ravenna, New York, is a 1971 alumnus of Oswego State University in Oswego, New York.

Last summer Lester Gladhand was accused of being antisocial.

Now he has a Gas grill.

Lester's really a warmhearted fellow, but whenever the Gladhands had friends over for a barbecue, Lester was busy. Busy with the briquets. Busy with the starter fluid. Busy keeping the fire going. Busy trying to keep clean. Just too busy to be social.

Now Lester has a Gas grill. He lifts the cover and lights the grill. And he becomes the life of the party.

Since you're going to cook anyway, why not cook the fun way — on an outdoor Gas grill. And enjoy the party!

See the Gas grills on display at Gas appliance dealers and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms.

Just think of a Gas grill as a social asset.

Belleville housewife worn out by campaign

Mrs. Josephine Chapman, 34-year-old housewife and mother of three, of 239 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville, packed her bags and has left for a trip to Miami Beach in support of "the only man who can beat Nixon", Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

Last year she was a political novice tending her Belleville home. This year she is the coordinator for the Wallace campaign in Michigan, a state the Alabama governor carried in the May 16 presidential primary election.

"I'm getting pretty worn out," she stated last Wednesday on the eve of her departure for Miami Beach. She and her husband, Forrest, a doctor, are the parents of three sons, ages 12, 11 and 4.

"The whole family has been sympathetic through the whole campaign," she said. Mrs. Chapman reported to Wallace June 30 in Silver Springs, Md., where the governor was recovering from bullet wounds of an assassination attempt. He has arrived in Miami Beach too.

"We told him we wanted him to start stomping in Michigan after he gets the nomination and his eyes lit up," said Mrs. Chapman.

Last year Mrs. Chapman was involved in a fund-raising dinner for Wallace in Toledo, Ohio where she decided, "he's a man who means what he says."

In contact with the governor's Alabama headquarters, she agreed to be campaign coordinator, she said.

"It's the most ambivalent thing I've ever done," she said. "Duties and obligations were never specific."

Mrs. Chapman spent the past week on the credentials committee in Washington hearing challenges to delegates.

She will be one of the three vice chairmen of the Michigan delegation to the convention, where, she predicts, Wallace will emerge as the Democrats' candidate for president.

"Even where he ran with lack of an organization, he did magnificently," the dark-haired woman said.

Anti-busing plank asked of Democrats

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has called upon the Democratic National Platform Committee to include a strong and explicit plank opposing cross-district busing for racial purposes.

Joined by four Democratic colleagues from the Detroit area, Congressman Ford expressed his feelings in a blunt letter to the platform committee. Cosigning the letter with Congressman Ford were Congressmen John D. Dingell, Lucien N. Nedra, James G. O'Hara and Martha W. Griffiths.

The letter, supporting the concept of neighborhood schools, declared that a clear stand in opposition to busing was imperative for the Democratic Party.

The full text of the letter follows:

"We urge that the platform of the Democratic National Convention oppose busing across school district and county lines in pursuit of racial balance."

"We are for the concept of the neighborhood school, which we take to mean that schoolchildren, without regard to race, color, or creed, may attend schools nearest their homes."

"In those states where the busing issue has been presented to the voters, a majority of Democrats as well as a majority of voters has said No."

"The Democratic Party is on sound ground, morally, legally, and politically, when it supports quality education without quotas. To construct an educational system based on racial balances, to do it on a school-by-school basis, and to disregard neutrally drawn school district lines, is to invite chaos in education, public scorn, and voter repudiation."

"We come before the platform committee with strong party credentials and established records in behalf of human rights. And we say that busing for racial balance is wrong. We say that making Blacks a permanent minority in each and every school, as the Roth decision would do, is wrong."

"We have watched with dismay in Michigan as the Roth busing rulings have plunged the state into bitter divisiveness and impending chaos. Michigan is a progressive state but there is nothing progressive about race-conscious quotas."

Council approves plaque

A commemorative plaque in honor of three Department of Public Works employees killed in a sewer mishap in May has been approved by the Romulus City Council.

A request for council approval for the purchase of an appropriate plaque was made by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael.

The council instructed the mayor to get a cost report by the council's next session.

The three men, drowned in 30 feet of water in a sewer in the Columbus - Beverly Road area in south Romulus, were Felix Glinski, 60, of 610 Cogswell Road; William Hardict, 45, of 5878 Biddle St., and Charles Claxton, 22, of 29197 Smith Rd.

A fourth worker at the location was not injured.

Weekday activities scheduled

The Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation has supervised playgrounds at eight elementary schools from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, Frank J. Tolish, department director, announced Monday.

The recreational activities include arts and crafts on Tuesdays at the Mt. Pleasant Elementary School and Harrison Elementary School, on Wednesdays at Gordonier Elementary and Hayti Elementary Schools and on Thursdays at Cory Elementary and Merriman Elementary Schools.

Arts and crafts are also offered at the Romulus High School from 9 a.m. to 12 noon in Room 412, Monday through Friday.

Sewing programs are available on Mondays at the Beverly and Mt. Pleasant Elementary Schools and on Wednesdays at the Merriman and Harrison Elementary Schools, Tolish reported.

League says busing is part of education

To the editor:
The League of Women Voters of Livonia urges peaceful and thoughtful compliance with Judge Roth's school desegregation order.

Respect for the law is in the best tradition of our American heritage and of great importance to us as citizens and to the education of our children. We ask that the citizens of Livonia, Wayne and Westland devote their best energies to making the desegregation process a peaceful and constructive experience for our children.

The Leagues of Women Voters in the Detroit metropolitan area have done considerable research in the area of desegregating schools across the country and have been unable to discover any method of significant desegregation that does not involve transportation of children to some extent. Busing of children to and from school has been, of course, a long term part of public educational systems.

The League of Women Voters urges local school boards to make careful preparations for school desegregation. Included in their planning should be human relations workshops for teachers and administrators, as well as exchange visits with teachers, community and parent groups. Compensatory programs should be continued.

We would like to join with the community in making this transition as smooth as possible.

Barbara Quenneville, President
League of Women Voters of Livonia

Government needs savers, not spenders

To the editor:
Do you want to scare yourself to death? Read on — The federal government spends $480,000,000 every 24 hours. Our federal debt is $43 billion (this is $43,000 million!) greater than all the debts of all the governments in the world.

We have "given away" more than $118 billion (this is $118,000 million!) in foreign aid and, since it was borrowed, we have paid $53 billion (this is $53,000 million) in interest.

Our reward for paying about $350 million a year for years to the United Nations was a humiliating defeat over seating Red China.

Raffle to help children

The newly-established Citizens Recreation Committee, a group of independent Van Buren Township area citizens concerned with community children and providing recreation for them, is sponsoring a raffle.

The raffle drawing will be on Aug. 5 during the annual Belleville area sidewalk sale, said William A. Loyd, who formed the committee.

The purpose of the committee, which is not affiliated with the township or the City of Belleville's recreation programs, is to appropriate monies for the development of recreational facilities and programs in the community for the benefit of the children.

The committee has agreed that the appropriated funds will be used initially for the development and building of a combination ice skating and hockey rink.

The committee is raffling off a mini-bike obtained through the cooperation of R. Lynn Hamilton, owner of the Hamilton Hardware Store in Belleville.

Raffle tickets can be obtained from several local citizens, businessmen, players of the local hockey association, as well as the committee members.

Committee members are Marj Lorentson, Larry Krantz, Peter Doyle, Buss Roberts and Ralph Hedman.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Romulus Youth Baseball Association will hold a general meeting and election of officers at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 2, at the United Methodist Church, 11190 Olive St. Romulus.

All mothers, who will have boys in Little League next year, are invited to attend the meeting and help elect leadership for the 1973 Little League baseball season.

And so it goes on and on with untold, unimaginable billions upon billions for foreign aid, United Nations, health, education and welfare, etc., etc., all charged and borrowed. This wild binge has caused inflation and increased our taxes. If we don't get some savers instead of spenders into government pronto, we are just going broke and bankrupt. Sleep well!

Homeowner is told she will have to move

To the editor:
Our family has paid taxes in this community for more than 30 years. My husband and I moved into this community when there was nothing. No sewers, water, etc. We struggled through numerous difficulties, but never gave up on the township (now city) we so dearly loved.

My husband helped in the planning of its growth as a political officeholder under probably two of Romulus' most capable supervisors, Terry L. Troutt and Edmund Blzek, Sr.

Now alarmingly in a very shocking manner, we have been informed by the county that we must move from the house which has been our residence for more than 30 years.

I could not believe that this was actually happening to us, so I called our honorable mayor more than once to have this confirmed only to be told that he was still on vacation. Pursuing the matter further, I checked with the city treasurer and one of our councilmen only to be told that they knew nothing of the county purchasing land in the city.

It's interesting to note that our city fathers have nothing more to do at their meetings than to worry about house numbers not properly being displayed when soon people in Romulus will no longer have homes on which to place their numbers.

Tax break for improved homes

Michigan homeowners will no longer be penalized through taxes for improving their property if legislation approved 31-0 by the Senate is adopted by the House.

"This bill will specifically prohibit an increase in the cash value of property — which is used as a basis for determining property taxes in Michigan — because of improvements to property," said Sen. William Faust (D-13th District), a strong supporter of the measure.

According to the provisions of the bill, the cash value may not be increased for expenditures of up to $2,000 — not including, of course, addition to the property.

THINK SMALL.

Think Small is our way of reminding you to drive carefully in the next several months when our children will be outside playing. By "Thinking Small", you will help insure the fact that they will grow up safe and happy.

After all, you were a child yourself not so long ago. Remember those carefree days when you played ball and rode your bike? Well today, it's difficult to enjoy all those youthful pleasures while living in fear that some reckless driver is going to end your life before it really begins!

Stop and think. As a driver you hold the power of life and death every time you get behind the wheel. In the next several months you will have the opportunity to exercise your power as thousands of children are on vacation, playing in the streets.

All you have to do to insure their safety is drive each street as if it were "your own".

Be a big person... Think Small.

PLEASE DRIVE CAREFULLY. PLEASE.

Ask Senator Griffin

FDA takes steps to fight poisonings

By U.S. SEN. ROBERT P. GRIFFIN

Question: Several months ago, my son came down with salmonella poisoning. Doctors at the hospital told me it could be traced to a pet turtle he bought at a local pet shop. Can't something be done about this?

—M.M., Hamtramck

Answer: It's estimated that contaminated pet turtles have caused as many as 300,000 cases a year of salmonella poisoning — a virulent, dangerous form of food poisoning. A few weeks ago, in response to congressional and public pressure, the Food and Drug Administration issued new regulations which now require that any and all turtles shipped across state lines must first be cleaned in a special chemical solution. The solution destroys salmonella bacteria, and experts say this procedure should sharply reduce the incidence of salmonella poisoning.

Question: Earlier this year I paid a tax consultant to help me fill out my federal income tax return. The other day, a salesman called on me and it sounded like he had some information about my financial situation that he could only have gotten from that tax man. Isn't the information on my tax form supposed to be confidential?

EDITOR'S NOTE — Senator Robert Griffin will answer questions of general interest through columns in The Daily Eagle. He will answer personally all correspondence addressed to: Sen. Robert P. Griffin, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510

—T.P., Wyandotte

Answer: You bet it is! On December 10, 1971, President Nixon signed, into law a bill, which I strongly supported, making it a federal crime for anyone engaged in the business of preparing tax returns to disclose information furnished to him for that purpose. If you believe there has been a violation, I suggest you contact the Internal Revenue Service office and ask for an investigation.

Question: My son is a college sophomore. His university has notified him that the cost of room and board in his dormitory will be increased by $200. What happened to the price freeze?

G.L., Detroit

Answer: Sorry, there is no price control violation because charges for tuition, room and board at state-operated colleges and universities are exempt. Only those private schools in operation to make a profit are limited now by price controls. The exemption also applies at private, non-profit institutions.

Question: My wife and I are camping enthusiasts. Can you provide us with information about some out-of-the-way, off-the-beaten-path areas that might be of interest?

M.L., Manistee

Answer: A pamphlet entitled "Back Country Travel in the National Park System," published by the National Park Service, describes 41 remote, primitive areas of our National Parks (including Michigan's Isle Royale) as well as camping and other facilities available. You can get a copy by sending 35c (check or money order) to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Be sure to give the title of the pamphlet and the catalog number (No. 2405-02-67).

Teachers at workshop

Teachers and graduate students from 25 school districts are attending Eastern Michigan University this summer for a graduate workshop in industrial education.

Attending the workshop from the Belleville-Romulus areas are Alan Brumbaugh of 49671 W. Huron River Dr., Belleville, and John Juriga of 16015 Martinsville Rd., Romulus.

The course, which offers four of graduate credit, is designed to introduce a newly-developed curriculum for junior high industrial arts students. It is a six-week program.

UNDERGOES TESTING — The experimental Powercell 11 fuel cell powerplant (rear two units) has been undergoing extensive field test evaluation by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. in Western Wayne County. Developed by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, the unit at left rear transforms natural gas and air into direct current electricity through an electrochemical reaction without contributing to air pollution. The unit on the right, called an inverter, changes the direct current into usable alternating current. Smaller fuel cell and inverter units (foreground) indicate the relative size of possible future production models of the powerplant.

On home improvements

Here's the answer

Q—I will be putting in two dry wells soon. Both will run from downspouts to carry off rain water. How deep should the drain tiles be below the surface?

A.—Place them from one to two feet below the surface. Be sure they are slanted slightly in the direction of the wells.

Q—I have to plane or file the top and bottom of a door. Which is better?

A.—Planing will take off more space wood. Filing takes longer but is easier to control unless you have had some experience in planing. Have you considered those new wood scrapers that look like cheese graters?

Q.—There's a considerable amount of moisture rising from the dirt crawl space under my house. What can I cover the dirt with to prevent this?

A.—You can use either roll roofing or polyethylene film. Overlap the pieces about six inches, being certain not to make any tears in them as you put them in place. Seal the overlaps with roofing cement or other exterior adhesive. Be sure the ground is graded so that rain flows away from the house and not towards the crawl space.

Q.—One of the ceiling tiles in our basement was punctured badly by one of my sons while using a billiard cue. Since the tiles have interlocking edges, how do I remove just one of them without damaging those nearby? Fortunately, I have a few tiles left over from the original installation.

A.—Use a utility knife or a single-edge razor blade and cut around the borders of the damaged tile. Remove it and put the new tile in place, but this time you'll have to use an adhesive.

Q.—I have to paint my house soon. I'd like to paint in the morning, but everything usually is covered with dew. Do I have to wait until the sun has dried everything?

A.—With certain types of latex exterior paint, you can paint over damp surfaces. But first read the label on the container to be certain that this can be done with the particular kind you buy.

Screens blunt breezes on decks and patios

Blunting strong winds while keeping a cooling breeze on deck or patio can be accomplished with handsome screens easily built of western woods.

Frames of 4x4-inch western pine, fir or cedar, tied in with decking or benches, support 2x2-inch slats on 2x4-inch stringers. The slightly spaced slats allow cooling air to circulate.

Wood screens also can provide privacy in front yards without appearing inhospitable, and can divide back yard areas for different uses.

Get humidifier in good shape

Summer and fall are good times to get your furnace humidifier all set to do its job in the cold, dry winter that's just ahead.

If you have a self-flushing or self-cleaning type of humidifier (Humid-Aire is an example), cleaning is no problem. All you have to do is drain the unit.

But many humidifiers must be periodically serviced. If lime deposits are allowed to remain, they can reduce the humidifier's performance and may even damage it beyond repair.

Here's what the engineers at Humid-Aire, Chicago, recommend to prepare your humidifier for the winter.

—Turn off the water and power supply to the unit.

—If possible, remove the humidifier from the furnace. Usually only a few screws have to be removed.

—Using steel wool or a wire brush, scrape off the lime deposits from the inside of the unit.

—Pay attention to the water inlet and float valve seat. You may have to use a vinegar or muriatic acid solution to remove stubborn lime.

—If the humidifier has a solid atomizing wheel or a moving belt, be sure these are lime-free. But be careful with atomizing wheels, however. These are precisely balanced and can easily be thrown out of line.

—After cleaning, reassemble the humidifier, put it back on the furnace, and turn on the power and water.

If all this sounds like too much of a job, you can ask your heating man to do it for you when he does the fall cleaning job on your furnace.

—If you have an evaporative plate-type humidifier, remove the plates and discard them. Install a set of new plates, available at most hardware stores.

IMPROVE YOUR HOME

Gas fuel cells being tested by firm in Canton Township

Some day you may be able to produce electricity for your home with your own pollution-free, energy-saving electric powerplant.

Whether that day will ever come depends largely on the results of tests now being carried out throughout the United States, including one by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. in western Wayne County.

The experiments involve the use of fuel cell powerplants that transform natural gas and air directly into electric power through an electrochemical reaction.

Similar to the on-board fuel cell powerplants that turned hydrogen and oxygen into electric power for the Apollo moon missions, the natural gas fuel cell devices are being studied in the hope that they might help America overcome its growing energy crisis and pollution problems.

The field testing operation is the second phase of a three-stage cooperative effort by the natural gas industry and Pratt & Whitney Aircraft under the auspices of TARGET, an acronym for Team to Advance Research for Gas Energy Transformation, Inc.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. is represented in TARGET through its parent organization, the American Natural Gas Co.

Nearly $50 million in funds provided by the 32 TARGET member companies and Pratt & Whitney, the prime contractor, has been spent since 1967 to determine the feasibility and practicality of the natural gas fuel cell powerplant, now known as Powercell 11.

Michigan's first two experimental Powercell 11 units were installed last March for a four-month test run in an eight-unit building at the new Deer Creek Park Apartments on Joy Road near Haggerty in Canton Township.

Fred H. McIntire, vice-president, Marketing of Michigan Consolidated, said the company expects to log 2,500 test hours on the two powerplants before ending that phase of the operation in early July.

He said the Powercell 11 powerplants may not be offered for sale for a long time, if ever.

"We're just testing a concept, and not the equipment as such, to see if such powerplants are economically and technologically feasible," McIntire said.

"The decision on whether to go into production, extend the testing period or give up will be made after the completion of our field testing program at the end of this year," he said.

McIntire said production models of the Powercell would be about one-third the size of the prototypes and could easily be housed in basements and utility rooms.

Although most of the test units use natural gas, he said, they were designed to operate on a variety of hydrocarbon fuels, including oil and manufactured gases.

The two powerplants installed by Michigan Consolidated produce up to 25 kilowatts of power — more than enough to meet the needs of the apartment building which is unoccupied. Both units are housed in a shed-like structure adjacent to the building.

"We're base loading now," McIntire said. "That means we turn on all lights in each of the eight units for certain periods to put on constant loads in addition to the fluctuating loads we had in the winter due to furnace operation and the air conditioners being used even though no one lives there."

Operation of the Powercell units, which can be hooked up in tandem to produce as much electrical power output as necessary, is noiseless as well as efficient and virtually pollution-free. The operation emits only harmless carbon dioxide, water vapor and a small amount of heat.

Due to its efficiency characteristics over the full range of electric loads, the fuel cell powerplant delivers more electricity per cubic foot of natural gas than any other system. This means it can help to conserve natural resources.

"Since the Powercell produces electric power at the point of its use," McIntire said, "there is no transmission line loss. And it works as cleanly as a gas furnace."

McIntire said test engineers and supervisors have found no serious obstacle to deter the natural gas fuel cell powerplant test program since they have been working with it.

It is too early to tell, however, whether the units will ever be declared ready for mass use in private homes, apartments, offices and small factories.

As many as 60 Powercell units are scheduled for testing during TARGET's Phase II Comprehensive Installation Program (CIP). The first one was installed a year ago in a Connecticut condominium and others followed in diverse locations, ranging from private homes to hamburger stands.

Screwdriver, hole help determine center

By AL CARRELLI

Dear Al:

When installing hinges or metal-mending plates, the screws should be centered for best results. To make sure this is done, I select a screwdriver with a tip the exact size of the hole. With the plate in place, I put the screwdriver in the hole and tap it so it sinks into the wood and makes a mark. Then I move it crossways and tap it again. The cross formed shows me the center of each hole and exactly where to drill my pilot holes for the screws.

D.P.S.

Dear Al:

A bad wiper blade left small scratches on my windshield. I would have been content to live with them, but our son removed them. His formula was to pour out a small amount of liquid car cleaner. (There are several on the market.) He then poured in equal amounts of baking soda and kitchen cleaning powder and mixed it until it formed a paste. He dipped a rag into the paste and rubbed the scratches with a circular motion. After a while, the scratches disappeared. He also replaced the wiper blade.

Chicago (NFS) Better management of the water that enters your home can save you money.

The following water-saving tips come from water works utilities and companies throughout the country, as compiled by A.Y. McDonald Mfg. Co., Dubuque, Ia., makers of products for the water works, plumbing, and oil industries:

Check for leaks in faulty water valves and faucets. A pinhole opening only 1-32 inch in diameter will cause 170 gallons of water to be wasted in 24 hours with a water pressure of 40 pounds.

WHEN YOU build a home, have pipe stubbed in where you'll be installing an appliance in the future. This saves the cost of breaking walls when the time comes.

To prevent a "sweating" water closet in the hot summer, have a special mixing valve installed that will temper the cold water in the tank with warm water. Or buy a water closet with built-in insulation. They're available.

Are the pictures representative?

Black film phenomenon upon us

EDITOR'S NOTE: Films by blacks, starring blacks, aimed for the black's market is a new — and highly profitable — development in the American field. How did it come about? Are the pictures truly representative of the black experience? Following is an article, on the black film phenomenon.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — In the current film "Shaft's Big Score," the black private detective hero scorns a New York police investigator, also black, "My mother told me to stay away from black honkies with big flat feet."

Five years ago, such a put-down of whites and blacks who work for the white establishment might have caused outrage.

Today such scenes are common. And not merely in low budget exploitation films. Films made by blacks and aimed primarily at the blacks' market are being financed on sizeable budgets by major studios.

This is the result of a black revolution in the movie industry. Film companies have discovered belatedly that millions of dollars can be made by aiming movies primarily at the big city black audience. If the movies contain enough quality, they also will draw patronage from whites.

Hence, a bonanza such as MGM produced last year with "Shaft." The film reportedly grossed $18 million in the United States and Canada. It was MGM's only big hit in 1971.

The Negro's advent to film prominence was a long time coming.

During the earliest years of movies, the black was portrayed as either servile, as in various versions of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," or lazy, as in two 1910 series, "Rastus" and "Sambo."

The black as villain was exploited by D. W. Griffith in the 1915 "Birth of Nation." Griffith was so astonished by the outcry of prejudice that he made the epic "Intolerance" in his own defense.

The talkie period brought some all black films: "Hallelujah" by MGM in 1929; "Green Pastures," Warner Brothers, 1936; "Stormy Weather," 20th Fox, 1943; "Cabin in the Sky," MGM, 1943; "Carmen Jones," Premering, 1954; "Porgy and Bess," Goldwyn, 1959; "Raisin in the Sun," Columbia, 1961.

None of these films was a financial success, and producers over the years adopted the maxim that "colored pictures don't sell."

There was scant work for black actors during the first 50 years of film history. A few became well known, largely in roles as menials: Clarence Muse, Louise Beavers, Bill Robinson, Ethel Waters, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson. Hattie McDaniel won an Oscar for her role as Mammy in "Gone with the Wind."

Others were relegated to roles in which they appeared incredibly lazy or frightened of ghosts, Stepin Fetchit, Willie Best, Farina of the Our Gang comedies, and an actor who was called "Sleep 'n' Eat." Paul Robeson played a few leading roles in the 1930s, mostly in non-Hollywood films such as "The Emperor Jones" and "Sanders of the River." Lena Horne appeared in MGM musicals, but her songs were carefully isolated so they could be cut from showings in the South. Sidney Poitier was the star who triggered the Black Revolution in films.

The Nassau-born actor had been in movies since "No Way Out" in 1950, but he seemed destined for billing under such stars as Tony Curtis and Rock Hudson. Then in 1963 he starred in "Lilies of the Field," and won the Oscar as best actor.

Hollywood was quick to realize the value of the newfound star, and he appeared in such moneymakers as "A Patch of Blue," "To Sir with Love," "In the Heat of the Night" and "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner." Always he portrayed a successful black in the white world.

"The industry discovered something from Poitier's films," says Jim Brown, the pro footballer who became a black film star. "Over half the patronage came from blacks in the big cities.

"That pointed out two things to the producers: that the industry needed some black stars; and that dignity was needed in the portrayal of blacks on the screen."

Poitier's immense success helped create stardom for other black actors: Brown, Raymond St. Jacques, Richard Roundtree, Godfrey Cambridge, Calvin Lockhart, Yaphet Kotto.

Black pictures helped solve a crisis for theater owners. With whites moving to the suburbs, massive old theaters in the central cities seemed doomed to decay and destruction. The lure of black films began filling up those theaters with Negroes who remained in the cities.

Film companies began to see the need of black directors to interpret the black experience. Magazine photographer Gordon Parks was the pioneer with "The Learning Tree" in 1969. Last year he scored with "Shaft."

Melvin Van Peebles directed "Watermelon Man" for Columbia, then made "Sweet Sweetback" on his own for an immense profit. Other black directors include Mark Warren, "Come Back, Charleston Blue"; Wendell Franklin, "A Bus Is Coming"; Poitier, "Buck and the Preacher"; Ivan Dixon, "Trouble Man." Even with blacks directing blacks, critics have raised the question: "Do these films really reflect the black experience or are they merely white films done in black-face?"

FOLLOWS DAD — Emmet Kelly Jr., who is carrying on the famous circus-clown tradition of his father, is featured on the same bill with Loretta Long, Sesame Street's Susan, in a children's musical and variety show at the Pine Knob Music Theatre. The show begins at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Diahann Carroll in benefit at Michigan Palace

Singer-actress Diahann Carroll will take to the Michigan Palace stage Thursday for a benefit show on behalf of Heartline — the Detroit program which offers a home and direction for girls alone, in need, with no place to go.

"We think this benefit gives people in the metropolitan area an excellent opportunity to have a fun night on the town and show concern for others at the same time," said H. Samuel Greenawalt Jr., chairman of Heartline's board of governors.

"For more than seven years, Heartline has been an alternative for girls with nowhere to go except the streets," he added, "and we want to keep the doors open."

Greenawalt explained that with professional guidance girls in the program are challenged to help plot their own school or work plan, which is aimed at bringing about a meaningful return to the community.

Greenawalt, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Jefferson are co-chairmen of the benefit, which will come toward the end of Diahann Carroll's run at the Michigan Palace, 235 Bagley at Grand River.

Luboff heads choral workshop at Eastern

A workshop for choral directors and music teachers, with a faculty headed by Norman Luboff, has been scheduled for July 16-21 on the campus of Eastern Michigan University.

Emphasis will be on "our 20th century music life." Participants are to get instruction adapting traditional background and techniques to problems posed by contemporary and avant-garde music, including jazz and popular idioms. The program includes sessions dealing with the preparation of the conductor.

Lecturers will discuss the philosophical and psychological aspects of the choral art.

More specific areas include programming ideas, repertoire suggestions, rehearsal procedures, and practical and professional techniques.

Luboff will lecture daily on "Music: Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow." These lectures will give participants a chance to study relationships through comparative analysis and synthesis of performance practices.

The fee of $135 covers room and meals for the duration of the workshop and a packet of music materials. Further information may be obtained from Blaine Ballard, Department of Music, Eastern Michigan University.

OPENS TONIGHT — "Play Strindberg," comedy variation on the theme of Strindberg's "Dance of Death," opens at 8 p.m. tonight at the Hilberry Theatre on Wayne State University's campus. James Corrigan, Mary Benson and John Sterline Arnold (from left) star in the production which alternates with Chekhov's "The Cherry Orchard" Wednesday through Friday evenings through Aug. 12.

'Play Strindberg' at Hilberry Theatre

The Detroit premiere of Friedrich Durrenmatt's "Play Strindberg," a comedy based on Strindberg's "Dance of Death," opens the Hilberry Repertory Company's summer evening schedule tonight.

It is repeated Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. On July 19 it is joined by "The Cherry Orchard" and thereafter alternates with the Chekhov play Wednesday through Saturday evenings through Aug. 12.

"Play Strindberg" is written in 12 "rounds," in the style of a prize fight. The bell rings and the contestants come out fighting — "an officer and a gentleman driven to the verge of madness by an actress of no talent," as the play puts it.

Mary Benson plays the actress, Alice, John Sterling Arnold is her husband Edgar, a cantankerous officer, and James Corrigan plays her cousin and lover, Kurt.

Miss Benson was seen last season as Lina Szczepanowska in "Misalliance," Lady Alice More in "A Man for All Seasons," Mrs. Gibbs in "Our Town" and Mrs. Mossop in "Trelawny of the Wells."

Arnold played Tarleton in "Misalliance," Buffalo Bill in "Indians," the Stage Manager in "Our Town" and Staupitz in "Luther." Corrigan was Rosencrantz in "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead,"

Roper in "A Man for All Seasons," Joey Percival in "Misalliance" and O'Dwyer in "Trelawny of the Wells."

Also in the cast are Terry S. Baker, Dianne Hill, Thomas B. Hill and Jeffrey O. Rodman. The production is directed by Don Blakely, who last season directed "Indians" and "A Man for All Seasons."

Pvt. Bowdler received her training with Company A of the WAC Training Battalion. The private's father, George

Q. Bowdler, lives in Ecorse.

Army Private First Class Lewis Donald, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Donald, 6325 Washington St., Romulus, recently was assigned to the 1st Armored Division in Germany.

Pfc. Donald is serving as a communications specialist with headquarters battery of the division artillery and near Zirndorf. He entered the army in December, 1971 and was last stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky. His wife, Betty, lives in Romulus.

Cadet Robert Kochanoski, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Kochanoski, 16205 Hannan, Romulus, is receiving six weeks of practical work in Military Leadership at the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) advanced summer camp at Ft. Riley, Kan. through July 21.

Cadet Kochanoski, who is scheduled to receive a B.S. degree in pharmacy in 1973 from the University of Michigan, is one of more than 10,000 students attending Army ROTC training at six installations in the U.S.

The six-week ROTC advanced camp provides an opportunity for cadets to develop and demonstrate leadership capabilities in a field training environment. The instruction supplements theories and concepts which cadets learn in the classroom on campus.

Cadets normally attend the training between their junior and senior years. This enables them to comprehend better their final year of classroom work and to function as cadet leaders on campus.

A 1964 graduate of Romulus High School, the Cadet received a B.S. degree in Zoology in 1968.

ARTS GALLERY EXHIBIT — The interplay of light from within and light reflected from the outside characterizes this plastic and aluminum wall-hung sculpture shown by Jim Quirk, a native of Belleville and assistant professor in design at Central Michigan University. It is one of the pieces he will be exhibiting in his one-man show in CMU's Creative Arts Gallery July 17-28.

Ex-area resident displays exhibits

He taught art in the Lake Fenton Community Schools before joining the CMU faculty. He holds a B.S. and M. A. degrees from CMU and M.F.A. degree from Cranbrook Academy of Art.

The exhibit, located in CMU's University Center, opens Monday, July 17 and runs through July 28. Summer hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays only.

BEAUTIFUL DREAMER—Romulus' Laura Pasternak, who grew up dreaming about competing in the Olympics, will realize that dream in August when she competes in the U.S. swim trials in Chicago. Laura competed in the area as a member of Jewl Cook's team at the Garden City Parks and Recreation.

Local swimmer eyes Olympic berth

Laura's dream is near reality

Every young athlete's dream is to compete in the Olympic Games. And 17-year-old Laura Pasternak may have that dream come true. Ever since she was nine and won two swimming ribbons in the Novice Swim Meet at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park, Miss Pasternak has been cutting through the waters at record speeds hoping to reach her goal—the Olympics.

"She's a possible contender for the girls Olympic team," said Coach Jack Nelson, who expects at least half dozen of his swimmers to compete in the Olympic trials Aug. 1-5 in Chicago.

As a member of Jack Nelson Swim Club's team, Miss Pasternak qualified for the Olympic trials last week in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida when she was clocked in the 100 meter backstroke at 1:09.9 and the 200 meter backstroke in 2:29.6.

She had previously qualified in the 100 meter freestyle.

Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pasternak, 11439 St. Aloysius, Romulus. Michael is a former Romulus High teacher and coached baseball, basketball and football during his tenure at the high school.

Laura has had to overcome several obstacles to make it as far as she has.

Because of the lack of training facilities in the area, especially pool time, Miss Pasternak went out of the state in search for help. She applied at the Pine Crest School in Florida and was accepted. Pine Crest has fielded the top high school girls' swim in the nation for the past two years.

She also joined the Jack Nelson AAU team at Fort Lauderdale and managed to make the national cutoff time in the last two indoor meets and also the long course last summer in Houston, Texas.

In her first national meet she was sponsored by the Garden City Swim Booster Club even though she was swimming with the Nelson team. Her last two outings were sponsored by the Romulus Progressive Club.

Laura managed to make the Nationals last April in spite of a setback. She broke her ankle in the middle of January and had only three weeks training prior to the meet.

"She's a very determined swimmer," said Mr. Pasternak. "She has been accepted to three universities but, as yet, has not decided on which one she will attend."

The universities that accepted the young athlete are the University of Miami, University of Florida and Michigan State University. All want her to compete on their respective swim teams.

Miss Pasternak plans to go into nursing as a career and also wants to offer her swimming knowledge to others.

"I want to be a coach someday," said Miss Pasternak who also is a fine artist.

On Wednesday, August 11, 1965 Laura Pasternak won her first gold medal. She was only 10-years-old and she represented the Metropolitan Park Pool. She was trained by Don Brooks, a lifeguard at the pool and a Romulus resident, and Weston Vanhille, the pool manager.

Also aiding in the development of this outstanding youngster was Jewel Cook, coach of the Garden City Parks and Recreation Swim Team and the young protege swam with Garden City until she was 15 years old.

Laura has accumulated during her young swimming career approximately 175 trophies, 400 medals, 50 plaques and many citations. Her swimming talent has offered her an opportunity to travel to New York, Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Texas, Utah, Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky and Florida.

She is also listed in the 1971 Swimming World 25 Best U.S. times long course in the 100-meter freestyle and backstroke. She was first in the Junior Olympics 100 meter backstroke and this year as a high school swimmer she was listed on the All-America High School team.

Some dream, then awake and talk or try to analyse their dreams while others, like Miss Pasternak, dream then get up and go out and make them come true.

Recreation and racism

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Those were the good old days.

"We had some real fine players on that team," reminisced Brother Dozier, the 56-year-old Inkster Parks and Recreation athletic supervisor who back in the late forties coached football at Inkster High School.

"We were undefeated in 1949 and 1950 and won the Metro Suburban Conference championship in 1952 when Fordson and Airport were in that league," said Dozier. "And we had some real hard-nosed players like Sylvester Mosley, Richard Humphrey Jr. and Bob Pendegast who's now a lieutenant with the Inkster Police Department."

"They really were the days."

But Dozier, who was assistant coach at the time to James Johnson (now superintendent of Ecorse Public Schools) doesn't live in the past—he is a "now" person.

"We had our problems in those days, but we made it," he said. "Sure there is a schism between black and white today, and this racial attitude from both sides of the track does hinder our recreation programs," said Dozier, "but I don't care what anyone says, and I'm speaking as an individual, I feel we have come a long way."

Dozier, who is black, believes that the hangups a person has stems from the family, the child's upbringing and should be resolved in the family.

"I don't care how many laws they pass, if you teach your children that blacks are no good and I teach my children that all whites are no good when they meet each will be suspicious of one another."

"My wife and I have traveled a lot in our time and all I have to say is there are more good people on this earth than bad ones."

Dozier who graduated from the Detroit Public School system in 1937 (Northern High School) has been connected with the Inkster Parks and Recreation Department for the past 12 years.

He has watched the recreation department blossom from an organization which had only $28,000 to offer the citizens to one whose budget presently is near the quarter-million mark.

"Our people are getting along and it's real good to see youngsters from both sides of the tracks playing together and that's the way it has to be. We now have the money to offer the programs, what we need is more cooperation."

Inkster's Parks and Recreation recently appointed a new department head when Lew Jackson was named to the post. Jackson, a former pro griddier, brings youth and an ambitious program to the office.

"He's a young man and we need somebody like him," said Dozier. "Recreation is one arena where programs are organized for the masses of people and you need someone with the energy to get them off the drawing boards."

"I'm looking forward to a more harmonious communication for all those concerned," pointed out Dozier.

The Doziers have two sons—Booker Jr., and Victor, who is with the Armed Forces in Germany.

Hink in BR lead

Walter Hink raised its Belleville Babe Ruth League record to 9-1 with a pair of victories last week.

Walter Hink outsluged Hink Enterprises, 20-8, and edged Roberts Brothers Funeral Home, 8-7.

P.N.A. Lodge also won twice.

P.N.A. downed Rebekkah Lodge, 11-3, and Clark Block, 7-1.

The wins gave P.N.A. a 6-3 record and moved it into a tie for second place with Roberts Brothers.

Roberts Brothers gained a split for the week with a 5-2 victory over Campbell Group.

In other games Rebekkah Lodge beat Atchinson Ford, 6-4, and Clark Block topped Campbell Group, 8-3.

Rich Ivan, Rick Beaver, Joe Warren, Roy Rutherford, and Greg Ivan had two hits each as they led Walter Hink past Hink Enterprises.

Greg Ivan, George Jarvis, and Mark Stelton all had two hits as Walter Hink topped Roberts Brothers.

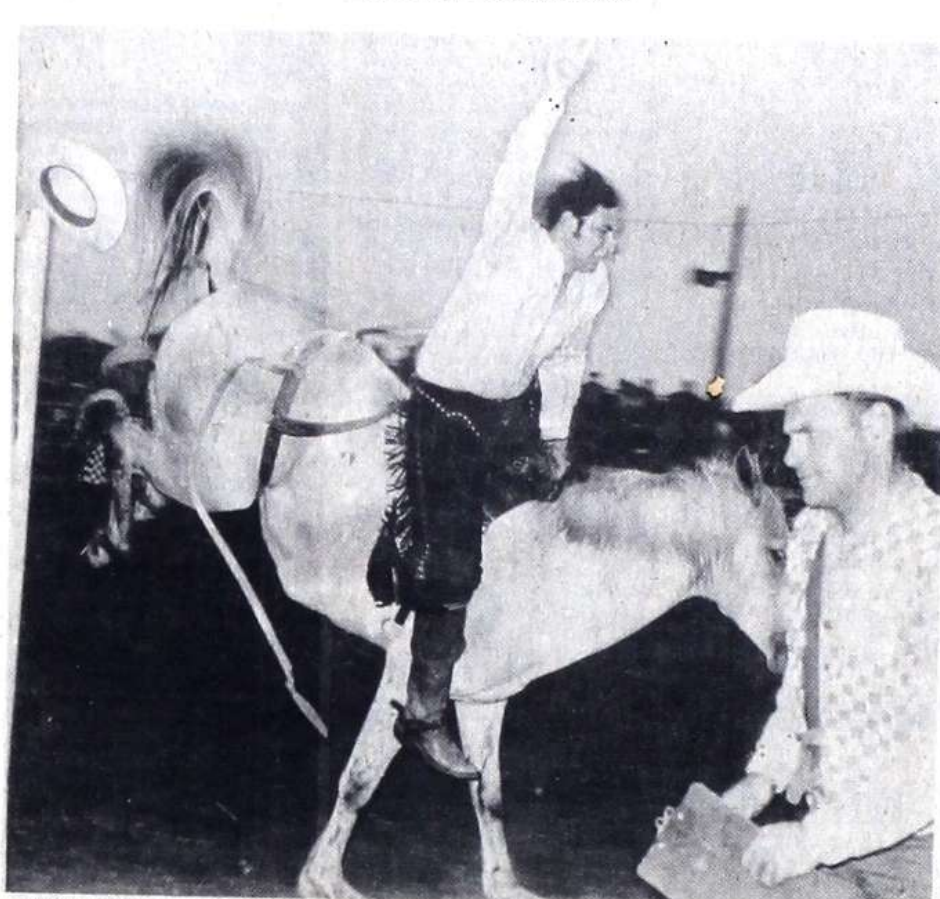

Winning pitcher Brad Falk's triple and Dan Raymond's two hits keyed P.N.A.'s triumph over Rebekkah.

Dan Mattson hurled a one-hitter and struck out 14 as he led P.N.A. to its win over Clark.

Ted Zrolkowski, with a double and single, and Kevin Bracken, with a double, were the top P.N.A. hitters.

Karl Gentz and Mark Ostrowski combined to strike out 14 as they pitched Roberts Brothers past Campbell.

Twin 200's Sunday

Races on tap at MIS

Race driver Merle Bettenhausen, the middle son of the late Tony Bettenhausen, is wondering if the Michigan International Speedway 200-mile race Sunday, July 16 will be his third time charm.

Twice he has been scheduled to make his first superspeedway start in an Indianapolis car and twice he has been frustrated, first by a crash at Indianapolis, and next by the flood-postponed Pocono 500-miler.

Now, it's on to the Michigan two-mile supertrack in the Irish Hills, the speedway which his older brother Gary conquered two years ago.

Merle Bettenhausen is slated to drive the Kingfish

Offy, owned and prepared by Grant King, aided by veteran racing mechanic Wally Meskowski, from Indianapolis.

"Since the rear engine cars are all kind of new to me, I won't be out to really win any race right now," Merle acknowledged, "I'm just out to try and get in some miles and learn and go as fast as I feel comfortable," and that should be quite fast at the Michigan oval where the Indy cars' first 200 mph lap is anticipated.

Penske thus has two former Michigan winners on his team, Gary and Mark Donohue, last year's Twin 200s victor. At Indianapolis, Bettenhausen was the leader as the race finish neared. Then, when his car faltered, Donohue took over, so Penske has it going for him either way.

Regardless of the pressure on him, the fans can be certain Gary will take time out to help the younger brother.

"I was at the Michigan track last year," Merle said, "as a spectator and the track looks over interesting. It will probably be easier to drive than running Indianapolis."

While Merle has not raced at Indy, his driver's test was so smooth he received many official compliments.

"We'll be going fast," he agreed, "but with the banking and everything, and the high speeds, I don't think it will be quite as difficult as trying to find your way around four corners that are flat like Indianapolis."

That's one rookie's observation, a rookie with a great heritage and the brotherly help of a top-rated driver.

Merle has had the help and backing of his older brother, Gary, the man who seemed on his way to certain victory in the Roger Penske car at Indianapolis, until mechanical ailments slowed the machine late in the race.

Gary easily established himself as one of the top drivers on the Championship Trail.

"Everything I've learned, I've learned through Gary," Merle said, "and with his help when I get to Michigan, being as Gary won that race two years ago, I'm sure he will be a great asset for me."

"Our cars now run a bit faster with the wings and air foils and everything else we've got, than when Gary won the Indy car half of the Twin 200s at Michigan in 1970, but I'm sure he will stay in contention and maybe with a little of his help, I'll be up there too."

Not only are all the cars running faster than they did in 1970, and even last year, but Gary Bettenhausen has a great new ride, a superior automobile from the stable of Roger Penske, the Southfield, Michigan auto dealer.

Drag Boat racing set for Sunday

The National Drag Boat Association swings back into action on Sunday when the Eastern Chapter will present a quarter mile race on Ford Lake in Ypsilanti.

A new racing format, has been developed that should make the under 100 miles per hour racing a much more competitive event. The over 100 mph "Thunderboats" will also be in abundance again as they should reach speeds as fast as 180 mph.

The NDBA expects another large turnout with boats coming from many parts of the country including Texas and Virginia.

Time trials will start at 12:30 and racing begins at 2 p.m.

Ford Lake is located in Ypsilanti. Take the I-94 to the Rawsonville exit and head south for a quarter of a mile to the lake.

Coach's responsibilities aired

Representatives from 25 dioceses across the nation will attend the first annual National Conference of Catholic Youth Organization Athletic Directors in Detroit July 16-19.

Diocesan CYO athletic programs, which had their inception in the early nineteen thirties, now offer sports for more than 2,000 boys and girls and young men and young women.

The primary purpose of the conference will be to establish a uniform method of accrediting CYO athletic coaches. The conference will consider a coach's responsibility to his parish, his players, the players' parents, opponents, officials, spectators and to themselves.

"Once an individual accepts a position as a coach in the CYO, he also accepts the responsibility for implementing the philosophy of the organization," says Frederic Engh, athletic director of the Wilmington (Delaware) CYO and the convention chairman. "We will undertake to set up guidelines to assist the coaches in meeting their responsibilities.

"In many dioceses, the only program the CYO sponsors is athletics. The importance of these programs for the good of our youth cannot be exaggerated. In order to upgrade these programs, we are calling upon the expertise of our athletic directors to develop a code of conduct and a measure of competence for our coaches."

Frank Connolly, athletic director of the host Detroit

CYO, points out that CYO coaches have done a tremendous job in developing their programs.

"We are all proud of our fine coaches," he says. "And we are confident that a uniform method of accrediting will be helpful to them. The coaches themselves have made many helpful suggestions."

Connolly speaks from experience. The Detroit CYO, where he has been athletic director for more than a quarter of a century, has about 1,000 coaches operating a year-round sports program for about 25,000 participants.

Last year Cycle magazine said Suzuki made the best 250. This year we've made it even better.

The West Division pacesetter returned to the field on Thursday and chalked up its 12th consecutive victory.

All 14 teams met on Thursday with top contenders teams coming away winners.

Spearman's Fine Foods appears to have the Western Division championship wrapped up, winning a 5 to 3 decision from an improved Kerr Mfg. Co.

Spearman's now leads second place Carpentry by Woodcraft by five games with seven to play. The lone question in the West is if Spearman's can get through the season undefeated.

Ron Kampson led Spearman's past Kerr with three hits in as many tries and knocked in two runs. Don Twitchel, Walt Goeckel and Paul Tryon accounted for the other RBI's for Spearman's. John Goubis doubled home a pair for Kerr and Dave Beauchamp singled home the other marker. Rich Koklia was the winning pitcher for the 12th time this season.

In the East, the race remains tight as Coughlin Air, Morgan Manor and Romulus Progressive Club were winners.

Coughlin Air collected 15 hits en route to a 11 to 5 win over Romulus Press Repair. Leon James was Coughlin's leading hitter with his third home run and two triples in a perfect 4 for 4 day.

James knocked in four runs to bring his season total to 20. Rich Rakotz picked up three hits in the contest while brother Ralph gained his sixth win of the season.

Morgan Manor all but finished Carpentry by Woodcraft's chances in the West with a 15 to 6 romp. Ron Jones, Dave Pichan and Ray Muck each collected three hits while Pete Molnar and Jody Gomez checked in with a pair out of Morgan's 21 hit total. Much had a three-run homer while Dave Pichan delivered a two-run circuit blast. Winning pitcher Muck allowed Carpentry 12 singles and a double.

Romulus Progressive used two three run rallies to down Romulus Hardware and Auto Supply 6 to 4 to stay a half game off the pace set by Coughlin and Morgan. Hardware took the lead in the opening inning when Stewart singled, moved to second after Ballard's fly to left, then Rittthaler singled him to third and Shaffer's fly to left center brought him home.

Progressive scored three in the bottom of the frame when Bill Reiber doubled, Ken Meintkiewicz singled Reiber home, Fred Eberline reached base on an error. Hugh Miller then walked filling the bases and Al Ellis singled, scoring two.

Hardware tied the score in the third when Stewart was sage on a bobble and Szyndlar homered. The score remained tied until the last of the fifth when Jim Halcomb and John Sterling singled, Bill Reiber doubled home Halcomb and Sterling scored on a throwing error. Meintkiewicz singled Reiber home for the final run. Hardware scored the last tally when Szyndlar walked and scored on Glinski's double. Bob Zyga recorded his fifth win of the season against two losses while allowing seven hits.

Jim Bishop held Romulus Welding to four hits in pitching

Hal's Market to a 3 to 1 win. Bishop and Jim Reed knocked in a run each for Hal's and the third run scored on a fielder's choice. A walk and two singles in the seventh spoiled Bishop's shutout try.

Walter's Bar knocked off Reel Realty 8 to 5 to move into a third place tie with the Realtors in the West. Five runs in the fourth decided the issue for Walter's.

Dan Hood, Mike Kingsbury, and Steve McClure singled, then, after two errors Ted Dyer singled home the final two runs of the frame.

Kingsbury and McClure had a pair of hits for Walters. Dick Marshall gave up six hits to pick up the win.

Baum's Funeral Home held off Cue Corners 8 to 7. Alex McCraight and Mike Hausch each had three hits in Baum's 16 hit total, while Don Osak was 4 for 4 and Kevin Caraco 3 for 4 for the Corners.

Baum's big inning was a four run sixth when McCraight, Peter Bergeron, Mike Pratt, Mike Hausch, Rich Cieciak and winning Pitcher Ivan Kinshella singled.

Cue Corners trailing by four in the bottom of the seventh scored three runs on singles by Kevin Caraco, Don Osak and Bill Steinhauer. Ray Osak's fly ball was dropped as two more runs scored. Osak, representing the tying run, was left stranded at third.

This week's game settle title matters in the East as Morgan Manor and Romulus Progressive Club meet at the Jr. High School while Coughlin Air host Spearman's Fine Foods at Hayti on Tuesday, then on Thursday Coughlin and Progressive tangle at Mt. Pleasant.

Cross places 2nd at state tourney

Aaron Cross of Romulus finished second in the 165-pound class at the Michigan AAU Junior Olympic Freestyle Wrestling Tournament at Walled Lake Central High School last weekend.

Cross, a 1972 graduate of Romulus High School, won his first four matches and then wrestled to a 2-2 draw with Rod Lattimer of Farmington in the championship match.

Lattimer was awarded first place on the basis of fewer black marks. He had scored two of his previous four victories by pins while Cross had recorded only one pin.

None of Cross' first four opponents managed to score a point.

Cross has now qualified to compete in the National AAU Junior Olympic Tournament at Birmingham, Ala. on July 22-24.

The first three finishers in each weight class at the Walled Lake meet qualified for the national tournament.

Earlier this year Cross placed second in the 138-pound class at the Michigan Class A High School Tournament.

An Associated Newspapers All-Area Wrestling choice in 1972, he will attend the University of Michigan in the fall.

Reel Realty tops Senior Division

The "Reel Realty" Little League baseball team, with Gary Halvin coaching, has captured the 1972 Senior Division Championship of the Romulus Youth Baseball Association.

Winning nine out of ten games, the team won the championship handily. Jerry DeBuyscher's Morgan's Pirates and Glen Finch's "Commercial Carriers" tied for second place.

Third in the standings was Walt Majewski's "Hal's Market" and fourth place went to Bob Morrison's "Kaufman and Broad." John Aparkman's "Solar Machine" placed last with ten losses.

The championship winning team players are: Ray Valley, Dwayne Brown, Ken McNabb, Randy Birdwell, Gary Britz, Ted Pappas, Jr., Gordon Scott, Rick Britz, Mike Tomlin, Tom McCloskey, Ray Pomerinski, Rick Crow, and Fred Gnass.

Little League parents have source of advice

To survive Little League Baseball—if you son decides to join a team during Little League Baseball Week June 12-18—don't use Junior as your "ego pump" and don't try to turn him into a Mickey Mantle.

So advise Catherine and Loren Broadus, who speak from 12 years experience as Little League parents and pass along what they've learned in a new book, "Laughing And Crying With Little League," published by Harper & Row. In addition to having three Little Leaguers, both parents have served as coaches.

"Father can be hero—or heel," they write. "It is a common problem in Little League Baseball for the male parent to try to achieve prestige, status and recognition through his son and to push him too hard to become an outstanding player. While all the time he protests he only wants 'what's best for the boy.'"

The authors give an example of one such parent who was a "mild, pleasant, softspoken man until his son became involved with organized baseball." Then the father's relationship with his son changed radically.

"He made his son practice baseball in their backyard every evening from 5 to 7," they write. "In this father-son togetherness the father yelled at Junior constantly, and they ended each practice very unhappy. The boy liked to PLAY baseball, but he did not enjoy WORKING baseball."

He would have enjoyed playing baseball with his father, but he did not like working for a tyrannical backyard boss. The father defeated his own ends, because the nervous child played worse and worse."

Instead of concentrating on making Junior an All-American player, concentrate on becoming an All-American father, the Broadus couple advise. However, this doesn't mean you have to get him everything he asks you to buy, they caution.

"Junior may want steel instead of rubber cleats on his baseball shoes because the 13-year-old boy next door who is in the Pony League wears steel cleats," they advise further.

"Our son came in and announced that he wanted a pair of white cleats. 'They're cool,' he said. Holy shades of Joe Namath. I investigated the price and told him I would paint his feet white and put suction cups on the bottom of his feet. He smiled, put on his basic blacks, and asked for new shoe strings, the shoe multicolored type. Shoe strings we can afford. Most Little Leaguers rule out steel cleats as a safety measure for this age boy," the book continues.

"Another item you will need to buy for your son is a baseball glove," say the authors. "No, you never knew baseball gloves cost from $4.98 to $39.98. You will also find out that Joe's, Jim's, and Jack's gloves cost $29.98 and that they get a new one every year. "The first day Junior gets his full uniform he may wear it all day even if the temperature is 98 degrees. He will wear that wool baseball hat all day even if he gets brain fever."

For "perfectionist parents," the Broadus couple point out, there is an official "Approved Equipment and Supplies" catalog that offers everything from pitching machines to pennants (Little League Baseball, Inc., P.O. Box 1127, Williamsport, Pa. 17701).

The author-parents recommend that you have a separate box or laundry basket for storing the equipment "even if you have to keep it in the living room," or you will find yourself frantically hunting for missing pieces when you're due at the field in five minutes.

In "Laughing And Crying With Little League," they discuss all the pros and cons ranging from character building values, parental attitudes that help or harm, umpires, try-outs and the basic vocabulary (for the benefit of mothers), to demands for time made upon parents and the hilarity and excitement of the game as they have lived it. Quickly prepared menus and recipes suitable for feeding a ravenous family arriving home late from the ball field make up one chapter.

The book, which sells for $3.95, is illustrated with drawings by cartoonist Bill Keane.

'Boom time' around corner

If Michigan's unexpected vacation travel increases registered so far this year is any indication of the state's economic health, then boom times are just around the corner, according to Automobile Club of Michigan General Manager Fred Rehm. Rehm told Auto Club executives meeting in Detroit recently that 1972 requests for domestic travel information on North America from Michigan AAA members are up 21 per cent as compared with the first four months last year.

"Even more surprising is the 30 per cent jump in the number of members served through our World-Wide Travel Department," said Rehm.

"Dramatic proof that recreation and vacation travel in Michigan is on the upswing—also an indication that the economy is improving—was given over the Memorial Day weekend," Rehm said.

Hearing tests offered free

The Wayne County Health Center, located on Merriman Road, just north of Michigan Ave., Westland, is offering hearing tests.

Children, 2½ - 5 years old, may be taken to Room 249 from 8:30 - 11 a.m. and 1 - 4 p.m. The free service is available through Sept. 15. No appointment is necessary.

Hearing tests are recommended by officials, who say about five per cent of all preschool children tested have a hearing deficiency.

She's a tough umpire

By LARRY PALADINO

She says she hates Women's Lib.

And she says she doesn't care whether other girls follow her lead.

Fifteen-year-old Carol Thorp says she became a Little League umpire because "I'm a general baseball freak."

"I had the ambition since I was in the fourth grade," she adds.

Carol, who wants to become a major league umpire one day, is one of two girls among 30 high school pupils who made it through a junior umpire program in the Detroit suburb of Dearborn Heights.

For the $3.50 a game which she is paid she has faced more than the usual problems. Almost all umpires argue sometimes with managers over game calls.

Waste tips Merchants

Belleville's two Connie Mack League entries came face-to-face last Saturday with American Waste Merchants, 2-1.

Kevin Bara was the star for the victorious American Waste team.

Bara pitched a four-hitter with 12 strikeouts and also accounted for the winning run with a sacrifice fly.

He also contributed a double to the American Waste attack. Belleville Merchant hurler Al Cicotte allowed five hits and fanned six as he took the loss.

Vern Gowen hit a home run for the Merchants.

After their win over the Merchants, American Waste dropped a Sunday doubleheader to Willow Run of Ann Arbor by scores of 3-2 and 11-8.

Santa's benefit show has plans under way

Plans progress at a good clip for the "Christmas in July" benefit horse show for Eugene (Santa) Gribble, 53, of 13560 Ashton Dr., Romulus.

The benefit show is being staged by members of Wayne County 4-H club leaders and friends of Gribble, who is seriously ill.

Thousands of youngsters in Romulus and Belleville, as well as surrounding communities, know Gribble as Santa Claus. For the past 13 years, he has set up his Christmas Fantasyland trailer in the two cities.

Older youngsters and "young marrieds" remember that he helped organize one of the first Romulus 4-H horse clubs — the Romulus Saddle Pals — almost 20 years ago and that he was a friend of 4-H always ready to chaperone their club parties and hay rides.

He's also been the "Donut Man" in charge of the home-made doughnut stand at the annual 4-H Fairs.

The show will be held at the Wayne County 4-H Fairgrounds, Quirk Road and the I-94 Expressway, Belleville. Starting time will be 8:30 a.m.

Murder planned

Belleville couple held in conspiracy

Indictments charging conspiracy to commit murder have been brought against two Belleville residents by the Washtenaw County Prosecutors office.

Sandra L. Varney, 29, of 45171 Judd Rd., and Francis M. Kennedy, 45, address not given, are held in lieu of $25,000 bond at the Washtenaw County Jail awaiting a pre-trial hearing in 14th District Court in Ypsilanti set for today.

The pair are accused of conspiring to murder an unidentified Ypsilanti woman. Michigan State Police detectives said the couple was arrested after they attempted to hire an undercover agent to kill the woman.

A police spokesman said they had offered the agent several thousand dollars for the murder.

Although it was not revealed how State Police were tipped off to the conspiracy, police said Ms. Varney and Kennedy had been planning the killing for nearly two years.

The police would give only few details of the conspiracy, saying they did not want to jeopardize their case before trial.

Romulus Jaycees to oppose busing

The Romulus Jaycees have voted to oppose the present busing plans as outlined by U.S. District Court Judge Stephen J. Roth.

At their June meeting, the Jaycees heard pro and con comments from club members and, after considerable amount of discussion, voted to advise the appropriate Michigan and U.S. legislators that they (Jaycees) cannot support this method of achieving racial balance in schools.

The Jaycees wish to note that this decision is a majority opinion and does not negate the value of those opinions by the Jaycees who are not opposed to the busing issue.

The Jaycees realized that their action will both please and upset certain sections of their community. They feel, however, that their feelings should be known on this most important matter.

They will welcome comments by all citizens.

Youths are sentenced for part in robberies

A trio of youths who claim they pulled a series of local robberies to help support a friend have been sentenced to serve a prison term of 18 months to 10 years by a Wayne County Circuit Court judge.

Judge Nathan J. Kaufman imposed the sentence yesterday on J. Douglas Montgomery, 21, of 7200 Merriman Rd., Romulus, Charles G. Spencer, 18, of Canton Township, and Ricky Higgins, 18, of 46338 Ecorse Rd., Belleville.

The three had been charged with armed robbery in connection with the holdup of a Romulus party store, but had pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of larceny from a person.

Armed robbery can be punishable by a life sentence, but 10 years is the maximum for larceny from a person.

The youths were arrested by Wayne County Sheriff's detectives April 21, and later confessed to robbing a store in Sumpter Township and another in Canton Township.

The three said they committed the robberies to obtain money for Spencer who said he had an ailing wife and child and was unable to find a job.

Detectives said the bandits obtained about $300 in the three holdups, $145 of which has been paid back to the victims by Montgomery.

The youths will receive credit on their sentences for time served in the county jail.

Ford gets arthritis award

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th Dist.) has been presented with a Distinguished Service Award by The Arthritis Foundation for his efforts on behalf of arthritis sufferers.

The award was given "in grateful recognition of outstanding service and support in the fight against America's No. 1 crippling disease."

Ford was co-sponsor of a Congressional resolution which led to the designation of June as National Arthritis Month.

Ford pointed out that over 50,000,000 Americans suffer from some form of arthritis, and that 250,000 new victims are stricken each year.

"There are now an estimated 17,000,000 Americans with arthritis severe enough to require medical care," Congressman Ford said, "including 5,000,000 with rheumatoid arthritis, the most severe form of the disease."

Copies of a 20-page pamphlet on arthritis, published by the Arthritis Foundation, are available from Congressman William D. Ford, 125 House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Scoutmaster Calvin Light, accompanied by Ray O'Neil, Belleville's postmaster, led the troop of Steve and Greg Johnson, Steve Simons, Leonard and John Jordan, David Price, Tom Memmering, Dave Weber, Bob Hollenbeck, Bob Freysinger, Charles Bullock and Sean O'Neil.

The scouts hiked, fished and swam at their campsite. They also worked on merit badges and advancing ranks. The boys shared a "water carnival" with troop 793, which also accompanied them to Mackinaw City.

The two troops spent a day at Mackinaw City and a sightseeing tour of Fort Michilimack. On Sunday the boys attended churches at Indian River and spent time viewing the tourist attractions there. The two troops returned home July 1. Future plans include a canoe trip, another campout and a visit to Bob-Lo.

All parents of scouts and friends of scouts are asked to participate in the sustaining membership drive being conducted to help defray expenses of the Scout camp.

Other camps needing help are Charles Howell near Brighton and D-Bar-A near Metamora.

The camps are being renovated and updated to increase the availability to more scouts from the Detroit Area Council.
